1. Standing

Standing answers the first and highest question in law:

Who are you?

- A living man or woman → lawful jurisdiction
- A PERSON → corporate jurisdiction

Standing is the doorway.

Without correct standing, all claims fail before they begin.

2. IDENTITY

Identity creates standing.

The living soul

Stands under God, under Natural Law, under the Crown, and under the Imperial Constitution.

The PERSON

Exists only on paper, under corporate statute, subject to policy and regulation.

Identity determines the world in which you stand.

3. JURISDICTION

Jurisdiction flows from identity.

- Correct identity → correct jurisdiction
- Wrong identity → no jurisdiction, no remedy

The decisive question:

“Where does your authority trace to the Source of Authority?”

Corporate officers cannot answer this lawfully.

4. Remedy

When standing and jurisdiction are correct, remedy follows:

- rights recognised
- estate protected
- land inherited in Fee Simple
- access to lawful courts
- immunity from corporate presumptions
- recognition as a Commonwealth National

You cannot obtain remedy in the wrong jurisdiction.
You must stand in the world where remedy exists.

PRINCIPLE

You must know who you are and which world you stand in —
and you must stand in only one.
